Executive Presence and Influence is a 5-day course delivered by Mars Training Centre in London, Dubai, Milan, Geneva, and New York — designed for senior leaders who want to strengthen the way they show up and influence outcomes at the highest levels of their organisation.

Executive presence is often described as something you either have or you don't. The research disagrees. Presence is a learnable combination of how you carry yourself, how you communicate, and how you influence others — and senior leaders who deliberately develop these elements progress faster, lead more confidently, and command attention when it matters.

Across five days, you will examine the components of presence in detail, practise high-stakes communication scenarios, and build the personal habits that strengthen influence over time.

What You Will Learn

By the end of this programme, you will be able to:

- Identify the three components of executive presence and your current strength in each.
- Communicate with authority in boardrooms, all-hands meetings, and high-stakes one-to-ones.
- Influence stakeholders across matrix and political environments without formal authority.
- Adapt your presence to different audiences without losing authenticity.
- Manage your physical and vocal impact in person, on video, and on stage.
- Handle difficult conversations and pushback without losing composure.
- Build long-term influence through credibility, consistency, and reciprocity.
- Build a personal presence-development plan you can apply in the 90 days after the course.

How You Will Benefit

You will leave with a sharper understanding of how you currently come across and a structured plan to strengthen it, and a Mars Certificate of Completion.

Your organisation will gain a senior leader who can speak for the organisation with confidence — in front of boards, regulators, investors, and the workforce.
